G. I. Bonus Payments May Be Made in '47

$892.00 Highest Amount To Be Paid To Any Serviceman

The earliest possible date for mailing checks in payment of the Illinois soldiers' bonus, passed by the state's electorate last Tuesday, is believed to be next June or July, as survey this week indicated. Some authorities expressed the opinion that payments would begin even later.

The largest stumbling block in the way of earlier payment is the necessity of a court test to establish the legality of the measure and make certain the sale of bonds to finance it. Such a test will be brought about probably by a friendly suit, or perhaps by the suit which is at present pending in the Illinois Supreme court seeking to void the bonus act.

Blanks to Be Issued
Issuance of application blanks, probably through veterans' offices already established by the state, will be next. After receipt of the applications they must be screened before they are granted. All this must take place before the checks are written.

As soon as the routine is established payments will be relatively rapid and will be a continuing procedure continuing through 1949. The final date for application is July 1, 1949.

A basis of comparison is afforded by the bonus paid soldiers starting in 1923. The bond issue to finance that plan was passed in the November election in 1922, but final decision on whether the bonus had passed was held up for more than a month by the Chicago vote canvass. The governor finally declared the act in effect on Dec. 7, 1922.

Delay of Seven Months
The first warrants were mailed out July 2, 1923, nearly seven months after the measure had been declared passed.

At Tuesday's election 1,661,000 yes votes were needed for passage. The measure received more than 1,882,000 favorable votes.

Minimum payment under the plan will be $50 for 60 days' service. The maximum payment will be $900 to survivors of veterans whose deaths were service connected. Other payments will be determined on a basis of $10 a month for domestic service and $15 a month for overseas service. Time in the service is computed between Sept. 16, 1940, and Sept. 2, 1945.

Highest Would Be $892
If a person spent all that time overseas his bonus will be $892.50. If the full period was served in the United States the bonus will be $595. Average payment has been estimated at $395 by Sen. Frank J. Dick (R., Quincy), member of the commission which drew up the plans.

Sen. Everett R. Peters (R., St. Joseph), chairman of the commission, has estimated that cost of payments will be $360,550,000.

Hope to Form 10th District Legion Basketball League

Ed. Frazier, athletic director of the Antioch Legion post, said today that the formation of a 10th District American Legion Basketball League would be sought at a meeting of the 10th District Friday evening. In case the league is not formed he said that a schedule for the two recently formed Antioch Legion teams would be arranged, but expressed confidence that the league would be formed.

He also issued an invitation to all men of the community to take part in the sport, and stated that practice sessions are set for every Monday and Wednesday evening during the season.

Dale Rockow will act as manager for the teams and Gene Kaufmann has been elected captain.

Dr. Keefe Will Speak At Meeting of PTA at Grade School Monday

Dr. Frank Keefe will be the speaker at the regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher association at the grade school building Monday evening.

Following a short business session Dr. Keefe will be introduced and he will discuss the subject "Why Not Send the Whole Child to School?"

The talk will pertain to the health of children as preserved by the care and attention of parents. It is expected to be one of the highlights of the year's educational program.

Pheasant Season Opens With But Moderate Kill By Hunters in Region

More Birds to Hunt But They are Doing Good Job Of Hiding

The pheasant season opened Monday but according to reports hunters are having but a moderate amount of success.

Although there are more birds in this area than last year they are sitting tight and it has been difficult to flush them up.

"It is taking a good dog and a lot of hard work this year to get them," Dr. D. N. Deering, local hunting enthusiast said yesterday. He said that many are getting their limit but they are having to work hard for it.

"This year is better than some years for the amount of game," said Deering and I believe the birds are here, but they are hiding," Deering said.

The state department of conservation placed 250 birds in this area, 125 of which were cocks. They were banded and some of these banded birds already have been taken. More than the usual number of hens were loosened in hope that there would be more broods.

D. H. Minto, on whose farm a good many of the birds were released, said today that the shortage of upland game birds could be laid to two factors—the increase in foxes and the careless hunters who make a practice of shooting both cocks and hens. In this connection, Minto said that in his opinion a higher bounty on foxes would do much to help the situation in that trappers would have an incentive to trap the foxes. He added that when the bounty was first put on foxes the price of the fur, along with the bounty made trapping the pests profitable, but that now, with the fur almost worthless, that trappers would not be bothered to trap them.

Poor hunting has been reported in other parts of Lake county. At Deerfield, 15 hunters were arrested for hunting inside the village limits and all were fined.

First in a Series Of Legion Dances Set for Saturday

The first in a series of winter dances will be held this Saturday evening at the Antioch Legion home, Ida Avenue.

Decorations and planned erection of a bandstand at the hall are now underway and it is expected that the dances, which are being sponsored by the younger element in the organization, will be well patronized by young and old alike.

Entertainment other than the dancing will be provided for, and refreshments will be a part of the dances.

A good orchestra has been employed, and with current growth of interest in dancing it is thought that the dances will be popular.

Want Your 1946 License No. Again? Then Apply Before December 1st

Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett today cautioned persons applying for re-assignment of their current license numbers to make certain that they indicate they are requesting a re-assignment.

He said that among the thousands of applications for 1947 plates are routine applications in which the applicant does not desire a special number. Unless the applicant makes a notation of the number requested, the Automobile Department has no way of knowing whether the applicant desires re-assignment of their present number. The number desired should be noted in the space on the blank entitled "Remarks."

December first is the deadline for applying for re-assignment numbers. After that all numbers not requested will be assigned routinely.

NEXT RACE—AND FIRST ONE NOT YET OVER!

Junior Class Play at Antioch High School Called Best in Years

The Junior class play "Just Ducky," at the Antioch Township High school last Thursday and Friday is regarded as the best in many years by the crowds that filled the auditorium both nights.

The second night's crowd was larger than that of the first night and it was necessary to put in extra seats to accommodate the spectators.

The play was well cast, all of the students taking their part with such ease that they seemed to be enjoying it as much as the audience. They were well coached under the direction of Miss Jeannette Darroughs. The members of the cast presented a bouquet to Miss Darroughs and the class members gave her a ring in appreciation of her work.

The play, a farce comedy, revolved about a family of teen age children and a misunderstanding with their parents and friends. It had the crowd convulsed with laughter.

The receipts totaled $240 and after the expenses are paid the residue will be used for the class banquet and prom later in the year.

Antioch Observes 28th Anniversary of Close Of World War I Quietly

Armistice Day was celebrated Monday with services at the Village park conducted by the American Legion.

The 11 o'clock hour was marked by taps in memory of the end of the First World War and as a tribute to those who had lost their lives in that war.

The Legion entertained business and professional men at their home on Ida ave., in the afternoon and evening.

Business houses were closed at noon for the rest of the day, and the village was quiet, a situation much in contrast to 28 years ago when there was much happiness over the end of a war that was to end all wars.

Fire Destroys House at Hawthorne Farm

The guest house on the John Cuneo farm (Hawthorne farms) south of Libertyville was destroyed by fire Wednesday afternoon.

Three departments from nearby villages responded but were unable to combat the blaze because of the lack of water. The hose of all three companies was coupled in an attempt to pump water from a private lake a half mile distance but by that time the house was gone.

The residence was occupied by one of the caretakers of the horses. The cause of the blaze is not known. The loss is estimated at $25,000.

The Cuneo farm was formerly owned by Sam Insull.

New Machine Shop Service Now Open

Fred W. Jach, engineer and machinist long employed in Chicago industries, has purchased the property at Loon Lake formerly owned by George Schrober, and has installed a complete machine shop there.

The shop is fully equipped to take care of all machining operations and will be open daily. Besides repair work and new development work the shop will produce gasoline engines of the lightweight air-cooled type.

Murrie's Condition Unchanged

There is but little change in the condition of Village Clerk Roy L. Murrie. Those at his bedside at the Victory Memorial hospital say that his speech is somewhat improved but he has not regained the use of his limbs that were paralyzed.

New Officers of Fire Department Assume Duties

New officers of the Antioch Fire department took office at a regular meeting of the department, Tuesday evening. Edgar Simonsen, president, appointed committees for the year. Other officers who assumed duties were Clarence Shultis, secretary; George Garland, treasurer; Merriell Cunningham, Lieutenant; James Maplethorpe, delegate to the Lake County Firemen's association.

The installation of officers was postponed from a month ago, the regular date, on account of the absence of a number of the officers elect.

Simonsen named committeemen for all standing committees including Ways and Means, Entertainment, Auditing, Purchasing, Sick Benefit and Custodian.

Fire Drills at Schools
A report on the fire drills held during the week was given by Cunningham and Maplethorpe, inspectors. Time for emptying the schools was good in all cases, with the high school showing the best time of 50 seconds.

The inspectors also reported that the old barn in the rear of Williams Bros. store had been torn down in accordance with the recommendation of the fire inspectors. A discussion of fire prevention measures took considerable time, with the general recommendation that more strict inspection and follow-up be made.

New Hose for Trucks Is Here

The purchasing committee reported that 500 feet of new inch-and-one-half hose bought some time ago was on hand and would be installed on the trucks immediately. Jos. Patrovsky, of the Antioch Packing House, applied for the purchase of the old hose for use in fire prevention at the plant and a committee was appointed to complete the deal with him. In this connection Simonsen instructed the purchasing committee to assist local businessmen in all ways possible in obtaining fire prevention and fire fighting equipment, and said that the department would make recommendations to all who asked for help, and assist in getting the equipment.

To Be Rosing's Guests

An invitation extended by Wm. Rosing of the Antioch Garage to be his guests at Pregenzers resort at the next regular meeting on November 26 was accepted.

Ackerman Denies Having Asked Help in Buying Methodist Residence

Charles N. Ackerman has denied that he asked members of the Antioch board of trustees for $1,500 aid in making a deal for the Methodist parsonage so that he can carry through his part of the plan in opening and widening the proposed new street from Lake to Orchard st.

"I have made no such request nor have I had any intention of making such a request, and I have not made the suggestion that such a request be made," wrote Ackerman to the Antioch News.

The matter was brought before the village board last week by Trustee George Wagner and discussed over a period of twenty minutes as to its merits.

Ackerman says he stands ready to instantly reimburse the village for the 18 3-4 per cent it has advanced toward the purchase of property for right-of-way for its new street. No effort has been made recently to deal for the church property.

J. V. Murray of Pleasant Prairie Dies in Kenosha

James V. Murray, 62, died Tuesday morning in the Kenosha hospital following a lingering illness.

He was born June 4, 1884, in Pleasant Prairie township, and spent his boyhood in Waukegan, and at the time of his death was making his home in Kenosha.

Survivors are his wife Helen, two daughters, Kathleen Murray and Mrs. Robert Axtell, of Kenosha, a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Boller, of Easton.

Funeral services were held this morning (Thurs.) from St. Thomas church, burial was in St. James cemetery, Kenosha.

Because of the success of Roy E. Johnson's party and free Smorgasbord at his tavern in Lake Villa last year he is planning to repeat the event this year and may make it annual. The party this year will be on Nov. 23, the second anniversary of the opening of the tavern.

Lions Club Hears Barrett Speak at Lake Villa Dinner

Joint Meeting of Two Clubs On Tuesday Evening Draws Crowd of 250

A large number of Lions club members attended the joint meeting of the club with the Lake Villa Community club at the Lake Villa Grade school Tuesday evening when Attorney General George F. Barrett was the speaker.

The Lake Villa Women's society served a turkey dinner to the 250 members of the two clubs and their guests, many of whom were county officials.

Barrett was introduced by William Marks, member of the state Republican central committee from the 10th district, whose introduction was preceded by that of Paul Sheldon, president of the Lake Villa club and Harry J. Krueger, president of the Lions club. Guests were also introduced.

The attorney general, himself highly interested in the welfare of young people, paid high tribute to the work of the two clubs in their work of providing for the welfare of youth in their respective communities.

Explains Official Duties

Barrett discussed the duties of his office and told of his efforts to safeguard the rights of the people of Illinois. He told of his efforts to have a law enacted that would put an end to racketeering in connection with private cemeteries where money has been collected for perpetual care of graves but is squandered.

"Perpetual care funds of many cemetery associations, mostly in Chicago, have been looted leaving no money for future care of graves," he said. He said that the bill he sponsored had failed to pass in the assembly because of a heavy lobby in opposition, but that he believed the people of Illinois are alert to the situation and will soon deal with it.

Barrett said he was bringing to a successful prosecution before the United States Supreme court the case in which four Indiana cities and their industries are being compelled to stop dumping sewage in Lake Michigan. In the past this sewage has polluted the lake and waters of Illinois, making drinking water unsafe.

Denies Agreement with I. C. R.

The speaker referred to the pending suit against the Illinois Central railroad involving taxes of from seven to ten million dollars. The railroad contends that with the abatement of property tax the tax on its charter lines is reduced. This Barrett denies.

Barrett said the statement by the railroad before the court that the case is in the process of settlement is untrue, and that the case can be settled in only one place, the court.

The attorney general spoke briefly of his attempts to end vote frauds.

"You cannot have free representative government unless you have a free and independent ballot," he contended. He said he had been ever watchful to insure honesty of franchise in all parts of the state.

The entertainment following was provided under the direction of Dan S. Boyer. A floor show which included professional artists of exceptional ability in music, dancing and ventriloquism, was presented.

Marring the good time of Homer LaPlant and Elroy Anderson of the Antioch club was the fact that two others took their hats by mistake. They hope the exchange can be made.

Large Crowd Expected at Dance, Card Party

A large crowd is expected at the Parent Teachers Association dance and card party to be given at 8 p. m. Saturday at the grade school.

Dancing will be to the music of Bessie Barnes orchestra and will start at 10 p. m. There will be refreshments and prizes. Cards will include bridge, five hundred, pinocle and buncos.

Mrs. Einar Petersen, Mrs. William Gray and Mrs. Arthur Lubkeman comprise the committee in charge, and they have planned a pleasant meeting for all.

CORRECTION

In the account of the wedding of Arden Van Patten last week it was erroneously stated that Mrs. N. C. Jensen is his grandmother. Van Patten is the son of Mrs. Emily Van Patten, formerly of Antioch, and is no relation to Mrs. Jensen. The News regrets this error.

More Power for the Rural User

A total of 1,070,000 residential and farm customers were added to the lines of the electric power industry in the United States during the first eight months of 1946, despite the housing shortage and the difficulties encountered in securing poles, wire and other needed equipment, the Edison Electric Institute has announced.

To go back a little farther, data covering the twelve-month period following V-J day shows that 1,668,000 new customers of all classes were added to power lines, and 1,364,000 of these were residential and farm users. This phenomenal increase in new customers, the announcement continues, "has been amazing to utility executives and agreeably distorted the normal long term pattern of customer growth."

It is particularly significant that most of the new users have been added to the lines in rural areas. These are the areas where increased use of power results in the greatest improvement in the standard of living. And the power industry is now engaged in a $300,000,000 expansion program which is designed to virtually complete rural electrification nationally by the end of 1948. According to utility spokesmen, this goal will be reached on schedule unless it is delayed by circumstances beyond the industry's control, such as inability to obtain needed equipment.

The electric industry's new power users are getting an invaluable, 24-hour-a-day servant at a very low cost. It is a servant which will light the home, cook the food, run the radio, do a thousand-and-one other household tasks, and also accomplish many farm jobs with a minimum of effort. The wages of this servant have actually declined while many other necessities have gone up nearly 100 per cent. And it is a servant which is provided by a self-sustaining, publicly-regulated, heavily taxed private enterprise which asks no subsidies from the taxpayers.

Retailers and the American System

In a talk to a merchants group, Benjamin H. Namm, president of the National Retail Dry Goods Association, urged retailers to sell "our system along with our products." Pointing out that our system of free enterprise is seriously threatened by a trend toward a government controlled economy, he said, "Either the American businessman must militantly defend his right to function under the enterprise system or face the prospect of losing that right."

"The American body politic is suffering from a kind of auto-intoxication. Its blood-stream is being infected with misinformation, misunderstanding, indifference and inertia. Our 2,000,000 retailers have no greater responsibility to the public they serve than to become vocal and articulate about our free enterprise system. They represent the only segment of our national economy which comes in daily, personal contact with the consuming public."

The American retailer should certainly understand the merits of the free enterprise system, for he has been one of its principal beneficiaries. Any man can start a store of any kind, anywhere—and get all the business his abilities, ideas of service and initiative entitle him to. Most of the big chain retail systems started, not so many years ago, from single stores owned by merchants with ambition, a trading instinct, and the desire to do a better job for the consuming public. And the chain systems of tomorrow, like the department stores and super-markets, will come from the small stores of today.

If the free enterprise system is worth keeping it is worth fighting for. The merchant, as Mr. Namm said, is in a particularly good position to help in that fight. And the issue at stake is the right of all business to operate in the traditional American way.

A Thousand Years to go

Are you concerned about the nation's oil resources? Well, you might as well put off your worrying, for, according to Walter L. Faust, vice-president of Socony-Vacuum Oil Company, there's no danger of a shortage of crude oil at least until the year 3026!

There are many reasons why our oil reserves are expected to last for an indefinite period. For example, large additional reserves of crude oil are constantly being found here at home. The development of producing areas in Latin America and the Middle East should result in a vast amount of the black gold. And discoveries of ways to obtain oil by synthetic means are of increasing importance. Mr. Faust's Company, for one, recently developed a method of getting crude from shale, which was turned over to the U. S. Bureau of Mines, patent free, for use when and if necessary.

This goes back to the saying that more oil comes out of the laboratory than out of the ground. The enormous progress in the techniques of extracting and reclaiming oils from the crude product has itself added billions of barrels to our potential supply. So don't worry about it—at least for a thousand years!

What You Should Know About

HOME FREEZERS

Before you buy a home freezer it is well to consider all the facts so you will know which unit will suit your purpose. You may have asked yourself "What advantages are there in a home freezer for me? What type do I need?" The answers to these questions depend on the size of your family, your home, and the availability of fresh foods.

Home freezers were not manufactured during the war, but the fortunate housewives who were "freezing" voiced their approval with such enthusiasm and wholehearted praise that women the country over decided they must have one. Many companies will have freezers available later in the year.

What are the advantages of a freezer?

Meal planning ceases to depend on the seasons or local markets when you have a home freezer. With a variety of frozen foods on hand (home and commercially frozen foods, including breads, pies, cakes and ice cream) meals can be prepared on a moment's notice. Unexpected guests can be served fine "company dinners" . . . meals which ordinarily would take long hours of planning, shopping and preparing. Out-of-season foods can be enjoyed at your table as fresh as they were in the garden months earlier and at as low a cost as when they were in season.

For those of you who grow fruits and vegetables, or have easy access to quantities of foods from local farms or markets, freezing will save time, vital food values, flavor and color. Actual time studies show that preservation by freezing takes approximately 1/3 the time required for home canning or dehydrating foods.

What size and style will you need?

You can estimate the size you will need by planning on one cubic foot as adequate for about 30 pounds of frozen food.

Many new household refrigerators have a low temperature compartment which may meet your requirements if your family is small or if there is no suitable location for a freezer.

For the family of average needs there are many types of home freezers. The chest-type is waist high and designed to fit into a utility room, basement or kitchen. Upright freezers are styled like your refrigerator and open from the front.

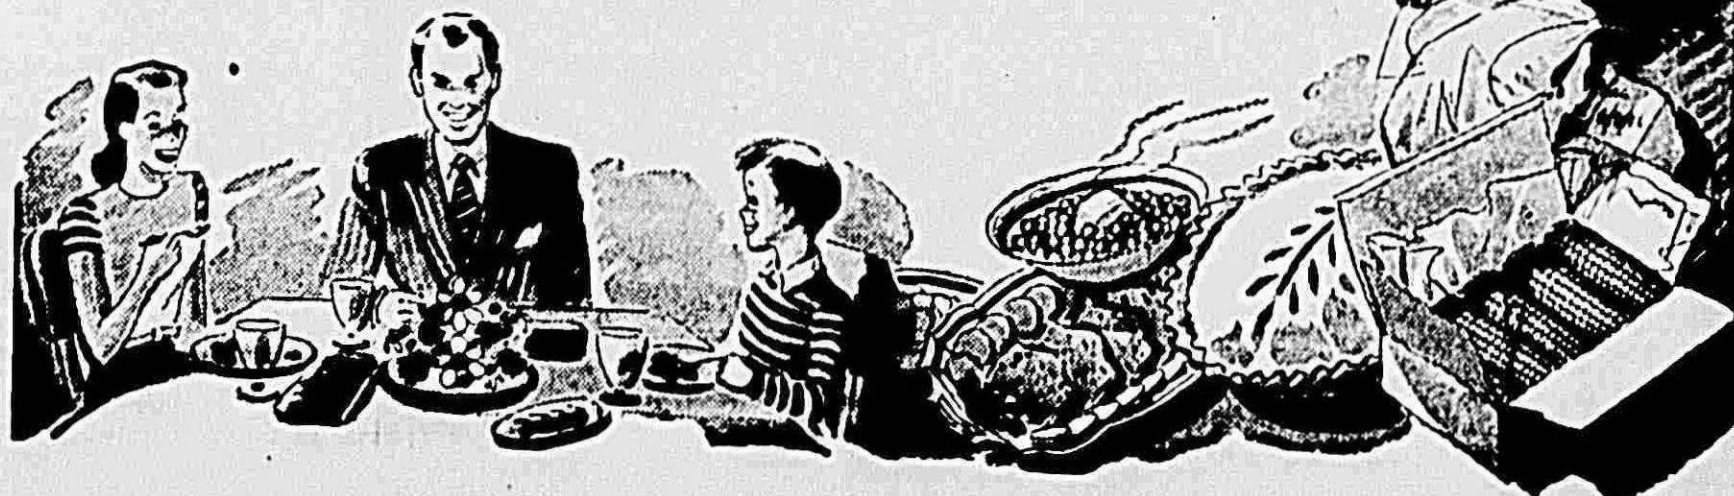

How to get the most from a freezer

Preparing foods for freezing must be done with care. The manufacturer of your home freezer will provide complete instructions. By following those simple directions you will get the most satisfaction from your freezer.

The operation of a freezer is just as simple as that of an electric refrigerator. It has to be defrosted only two or three times a year because it is not opened as often as a refrigerator. Home freezers can be plugged into any wall outlet and operate at a monthly cost slightly higher than a standard refrigerator of the same capacity.

FREE copies of our interesting new booklet "Facts about Home Freezers," may be obtained at your Public Service store or by writing the company.

Winter Weather's on the Way!

Here Are Oldsmobile's Recommended COLD WEATHER SERVICES

◆ CHECK COOLING SYSTEM—The radiator and entire cooling system should be drained, flushed out, and thoroughly inspected. Hose connections should be tightened where necessary.

◆ INSTALL ANTI-FREEZE—Sufficient anti-freeze should be put in to protect your car from a damaging freeze in even the coldest weather that can be expected.

◆ TUNE ENGINE—Your motor should be put in shape to assure you of quick, easy starting, and economical performance no matter how low the thermometer goes.

◆ CHANGE ENGINE OIL—A lighter oil that will circulate freely at below-freezing temperatures is a necessity for easy starting and the prevention of excessive winter wear.

◆ LUBRICATE CAR—The entire chassis should be scientifically lubricated to prevent wear. The lubricants in standard transmission and differential should be changed to a winter grade. Hydra-Matic Drive fluid need not be changed unless necessary.

◆ CHECK ELECTRICAL SYSTEM—There's a heavier load on battery, generator, starter and ignition system during cold weather. These should be inspected, put in good condition, and protected with a coating of PIB.

◆ CHECK SAFETY FEATURES—Brakes should be adjusted and put in top-notch condition. Windshield wipers should be checked. Heater and defroster connections should be inspected.

◆ PROTECT FINISH—Snow and ice and road-clearing chemicals are tough on the finish of your car. A wash and polish, or a Liquid Glaze job—and touch-up treatment—will protect both paint and chrome.

If You Have a New
Oldsmobile on the Way—

Materials shortages and unavoidable production delays are keeping our deliveries behind schedule. Better keep your present car up with regular service... until that style-leading new Oldsmobile arrives!

Engineer Examination Announced for Federal Positions

An Engineer examination was announced today by the United States Civil Service Commission for provisional appointments in the Federal service in all branches of engineering. Positions in the departmental service in Washington, D. C. and vicinity and in the field service in Washington, D. C. and a limited number of positions in the field service-at-large, will be filled from this examination. The salaries range from $3,397 to $5,905 a year.

Applications for the examination will be accepted by the Commission until further notice. Further information and application forms may be obtained from the Office of the Regional Director, Seventh U. S. Springfield Trip Is Unnecessary for Disabled Vets—Barrett Amputees who are filling out Veterans' Administration forms to qualify for automobiles provided by the government need not make a special trip to Springfield to have their drivers' license certified by the Automobile Department, Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett announced today.

The Secretary said that some veterans, who already hold Illinois drivers' licenses, have traveled to Springfield to have the Drivers' License Division enter the required information on the Veterans' Administration Form 4502.

"Veterans can save themselves the expense and time involved by mailing the Veterans' Administration form along with their present drivers' license identification card to the Drivers' License Division," Mr. Barrett said. That office will certify to the applicant's license and return the form and card to the veteran.

Mr. Barrett also advised that in Chicago, where drivers' license examinations are conducted by the Automobile Department, a specially equipped automobile is available for the examination of amputees who have not previously qualified for a drivers' license.

Remarkable Tree

Perhaps the world's most remarkable tree is the moriche palm of Venezuela. Its fruit is edible and its juice is made into beer. Its sap is made into wine and its pith into bread. Its leaves furnish an excellent thatch and the fibre extracted from their midribs is used for fishlines, cordage, hammocks and nets. Its wood is hard and makes good building material.

Fertilize Pastures

Pasture grasses are like other plants—they must have plant food. The wise farmer fertilizes his pastures in order that they may produce a good supply of feed for the dairy herd.

Jap Feudalism

Nearly 500 years ago Japan, cut off from the world at large, had developed a military feudalism of warrior lords and peasant serfs which closely resembled Europe's. In the late 1500s European traders and priests penetrated Japan's shell, were later expelled. By 1615 foreign influence was wiped out, and Japan withdrew into a shell of isolationism for almost 250 years.

Finishing Seam

When finishing a seam never sew beyond the end of the fabric. This will prevent the thread from becoming caught in the bobbin case. It will also avoid dulling the feed dog and wearing the presser foot.

Crazy for Money

By ERNEST MILES
WNU Features.

BACK for the "Crazy for Money" program, Bud Watson was on the platform waiting to go on the air.

If you listened to the show two weeks ago you will remember Mart Ringley, the Master of Ceremonies, introduced Bud. He told how Bud had just been discharged from the army and had volunteered for any stunt asked of him. Bud was to go out to Roscoe's Mammoth Carnival in the Fair Grounds, and to act as a speller for Captain Billy's Bathing Beauties.

And now the program was on the air and Mart Ringley was saying, "Hello! Hello! Hello! Tonight we are going to hear what happened to Bud Watson, who two weeks ago went out to the Carnival to be a speller on Captain Billy's Bathing Beauties show. Captain Billy is here, too, and I see he has brought a very pretty blonde with him. We'll start with you, Captain. But first, who is this lovely girl?"

"Oh, this is my daughter, Dora, who got herself involved in the stunt so I brought her along, too."

"This sounds mysterious, but tell us first what you did with Bud."

"There was a big crowd of folks who had heard your broadcast and they came out to hear the fun. They began calling for Bud so I brought him onto the platform. That big, red-headed six-footer just stood there tongue-tied. However, I managed to get him going and he did pretty well so I sent him inside to announce the events."

"Then you would say Bud was a success and deserves the money?"

"He did all right but he was still paying more attention to my daughter than to the show. It ended up by my having him thrown into the tank of water."

The audience was screaming as Mart asked, "You mean to say the evening ended with you in the water, Bud?"

Bud stammered a bit, "Well, as the Captain told you, we went out to the show and I was to listen and learn from him what to do. But that girl in the ticket booth set my head in a whirl and I just couldn't concentrate on what the Captain was saying.

"I got along fine with Dora."

"The crowd laughed at me and Captain Billy said, 'Get going kid, so I did the best I could.'"

"But," asked Mart, "how in the world did you get thrown into the tank three nights later?"

"Oh, I was crazy about the girl in the booth and went back each night, determined to make her like me. I hung around but she wouldn't talk. Captain Billy got madder and madder and tried to chase me away. On the third night he had a couple of fellows throw me into the tank."

"I was certainly wet and just as I got out of the tank Dora came back with the cash and tickets. When she saw what had happened she let out a yell and chased those fellows out. Then she turned and gave Captain Billy a tongue-lashing. I didn't know until then she was his daughter."

"Ha, ha, romance seems to have bloomed," said Mart and "let's hear what Captain Billy has to say."

"I didn't like it at first because Dora is only 18 and I've been both father and mother to her. Her mother died when she was three. But Bud is a persistent guy. I could see Dora had fallen hard for him."

"She got him a job so he'd be able to marry her?"

"She certainly did. Bud is now my chief assistant and doing a swell job. When the season is finished they plan to get married and I'll still have my daughter, plus a darn fine son."

By now the audience was standing, cheering. Mart finally broke in: "It just goes to show you never know what will happen on this show. Bud, here is the other half of that $100 bill. Good luck to both of you."

"Thank you very much, it has been a wonderful experience," said Bud and passed the bill over to Dora.

"There," said Mart, "it's the woman who wins. Tell us, Dora, what are you going to do with that money?"

"Well, Mr. Ringley, Bud promised it to me towards the finest dressmaker a girl ever had, but Bud is the best prize of all, a real Valentin."

"I'm sure you will be happy," said Mart, "and Bud may have been crazy for money but he certainly is wise in his choice of a wife."

Americans eat more mustard than any other spice and they ate even more mustard during World War II, because mustard seed and red peppers were the only spices successfully cultivated in the United States.

Color Fastness

To test a fabric for color fastness, fasten a scrap of the test fabric along with the colored trimming to be used such as the ric rac or tape, to a piece of white cloth. Then carefully wash and iron the sample. If the white cloth has picked up any color from the fabric or trimming, the fading will be the same when the garment is made. Such is the advice of clothing specialists.

Roast Eggs in Shell

Eggs are now roasted on the shell and will soon be sold in the stores. This new commercial method of preserving eggs developed by a Boston company, roasts eggs in the shell at 245 to 250 degrees F. temperature. The heat cooks and seals the egg in its shell plus destroying bacteria which might cause spoilage. They remain good indefinitely without refrigeration and the hard-baked eggs are reported to have no change in flavor, appearance or nutritive value.

T.B. Declines

In 1926, 47.3 per cent of the school children tested in one investigation in well-selected grade schools showed a positive tuberculin test, but by 1944, the percentage of positive reactions had fallen to 7.7 per cent. Although a positive reaction to a tuberculin test does not necessarily indicate a case of tuberculosis, the effectiveness of tuberculosis control measures is best determined by the tuberculin test.

The new plastic fibre, vinyon, which is strong and impervious to moisture and acid when used for fishnets and chemical filters, will soon be spun into new stockings as strong when wet as dry. Ordinary dirt remains on the outside of the fiber so it is easily removed. Muddy splashes will no longer pose the problem of how to wash when forbidden to rub. And since the new glamour hose will dry "in a breeze" there'll be no temptation to postpone prompt washing after each wearing.

Uncle Sam Says

How big are you in deciding the future of America? What power is there in your savings bonds investments to help yourself? Your Uncle Sam does not have to be a quibbler to furnish the answers to these questions. You are as big as 140,000,000 Americans put together. You are actually a giant. United States Savings Bonds have the strength to build a better future for yourself and your America.

Lengthen Blankets

If your blankets are beginning to show the strain of yanking and pulling because they were too short to begin with, now is a good time to lengthen them. Use a strip of some suitable cloth across the bottom of the blankets. Supplies of wool are still tight, and it may be a long time before new blankets are plentiful.

Colonial Dish

Succotash is an early colonial vegetable dish composed of a mixture of green corn cut from the cob and shelled lima or other beans. If shelled beans or lima beans are not available, snap beans may be substituted. Cook until done and season with salt, pepper, butter and a little sweet milk. If to be canned, season only with salt and tin cans. Process at 10 pounds pressure in pressure canner just as for corn. In colonial days chicken or other meats were often added.

Sandwich Leaves
Plant nasturtiums in your window box. The leaves are excellent in sandwiches or salads.

Add Nitrogen

Nitrogen may be added to the soil either by legume green manure crops or in the form of nitrogen fertilizers. The former, growing nodulated legumes, is generally regarded as most economical.

Mold Growth

To stop mold growth, do everything possible to keep the house well aired and dry. Heat from an electric lamp will probably dry the air in a closet sufficiently to safeguard stored goods. Calcium chloride will absorb moisture in a closet or closed room, but must be renewed when the solid chloride becomes liquid.

Potatoes Not Fattening

Contrary to the belief of many, potatoes should not be thought of as fattening. The total calories eaten in a day is the deciding factor in determining whether weight is gained or lost. A medium sized Irish potato has no more energy value than an orange or apple and these two fruits are not considered fattening.

Island Is Born

The Mediterranean floor near the island of Pantelleria pushed up 600 feet to break the surface in 1831 and build 200-foot-high Graham's island, which was reduced in a few months to a black sand bar. In 1811, Sabina island rose 300 feet high off St. Michael in the Azores, soon vanished, repeating similar performances there in 1691 and 1720.

Ancient Painting

What may prove to be man's most ancient work of art, a pre-historic painting in red found in a cave near Valencia, Spain, and supposed to be about 15,000 years old, shows a man surrounded by bees taking honey combs out of a hole in a cliff to place in a basket.

Bottled Milk

In 1878 a Mr. Alexander Campbell of Brooklyn, N. Y., used glass jars which were the forerunner of the present milk bottle. This type appeared in Philadelphia in 1885. The first bottle which resembled the modern type milk bottle was not patented until four years later.

Only Cowards Change

By VICTOR DI CASTRI
WNU Features.

MRS. FEATHERHUGH looked over the brick wall of her pink terrace into the sunken garden below and as the sun played on the clumps of purple and yellow flowers she resolved again, that no matter what, she would make that Mary Smith realize that although Jim had only been Pfc. in the army he was still a Featherhugh and a Featherhugh had no business marrying a nursing sister called Mary Smith under any circumstances.

Well, it wouldn't be very long now. Any moment a car would stop in the driveway at the foot of the lawn which rolled away from the rock garden. It would take courage to put her son's wife in her proper place the moment she arrived but it had to be done. Mrs. Featherhugh believed it was all in the way people started their relationships that counted.

But here was the car. She smoothed her carefully groomed gray hair nervously and as the car came to a stop she steeled herself for the test she knew was imminent.

In a matter of seconds a girl with dark hair falling to her shoulders and wearing a blue coat with large white buttons, stepped out, looked about her and then up the flight of flagstone steps that lead to the terrace. The girl waved.

After what seemed to be an eternity her son slowly got out of the car and as he got to his feet he reached for his wife's arm and then he steadied himself with a cane.

Mrs. Featherhugh wanted to run to him but with an iron will she restrained herself. He couldn't be seriously wounded or he would have told me, she told herself. Besides, if he thought so much of the girl down there that he married her without my approval, why should I fall all over him now? I'll stay right here till they come up.

She steeled herself for the test she knew was imminent.

Mrs. Featherhugh hoped she wouldn't cry. Everything within her wanted her to rush towards her son and take him in her arms but that girl with him was an impossible barrier. "No, I won't do it. I won't do it," Mrs. Featherhugh screamed silently to her heart.

She watched anxiously as the girl whispered something to her husband and then while he just stood there she ran up the steps.

"I'm Mary," the girl said, and held out her hand.

Mrs. Featherhugh reluctantly admitted that Mary was even prettier than her picture, but this was no time for comparisons. "How do you do," The words were brittle.

Mary was obviously taken back as she repeated, "I'm Jim's wife, Mary." "Yes?" "You're his mother, aren't you?" "Yes." "Well, don't just stand there. Say something," Mrs. Featherhugh's eyes narrowed. The girl had spirit.

For a moment the two women just looked at each other and then Mary said calmly, but with obvious bitterness, "I see. You've got all this." With a sweep of her hand Mary took in the gardens and the huge stone house behind the terrace. "I've got nothing. I'm nobody. Well, that's where you're wrong, Mrs. Featherhugh. People in love have everything and they're very important people. They can't add it up and tell you what it is or who they are but—"

Mary turned, took a step towards her husband, and then changed her mind. She faced her mother-in-law and said quietly, "Mrs. Featherhugh, Jim is very anxious to see his mother again. He remembers you as a very special sort of mother. He has told me about you dozens of times. I thought I knew you so well that I was sure that when we met I would feel as if I had known you all my life. But I guess you've changed."

"War changes everyone," Mrs. Featherhugh.

"Only cowards change," Mrs. Featherhugh.

"How dare you?" "I'm sorry, Mrs. Featherhugh, but we can't keep Jim waiting down there forever. He's come home to see the mother he left behind. That's the only one he's going to be able to see for a long time."

"Jim has had a partial blindness for some time. It's improving and with proper attention," she smiled and added, "of course, there's more than a chance. But you and I have got to pull together."

Jim couldn't see that his mother had her arm around his wife, but in a little while he heard Mary call, "Here's your mother, Jim!"

"Last Roundup" Before Thanksgiving

An abundant turkey crop for 1946 promises that the nation will observe Thanksgiving in the established tradition. But not every family will dine on a gobbler chosen "on the hoof." Pretty Marlyss Pascoe, of Detroit, Mich., made sure of her selection by driving her new Chevrolet out to Shady Valley Farms, one of the largest turkey farms in the country, where Orville M. Felmlee assisted in the selection.
